Press release

La Française Real Estate Partners strengthens its investment team with a Senior Investment Manager

La Française Real Estate Partners strengthens its organisation with the arrival of Jean-Christophe Caron-Telders as Senior Investment Manager, responsible for sourcing and underwriting real estate assets for French and international institutional clients.

Patrice Genre, Chairman of La Française Real Estate Partners, stated that, “Jean-Christophe will be responsible for a new investment initiative focused on tourism and, more generally, will be involved in the acquisition of commercial property for French and international institutional clients. Jean-Christophe is taking on this role at an opportune time, after a year of solid growth and more than one billion euros invested. His extensive experience with every stage of the real estate chain, in particular in terms of fund raising and product structuring, means that we will be able to provide increasingly tailored solutions to our investors.”

Jean-Christophe has over 18 years' experience in pan-European real estate investment. He began his career at SOFILO (EDF Group's real estate subsidiary), then moved to Aerium in Paris. He was then involved in the opening of Aerium Finance Ltd.'s London office and covered pan-European investments for institutional investors and UHNWI. While still in London, he spent five years as Head of France for an Australian REIT, responsible for investments and the French offices. He spent the next six years as Head of Fund Management at ACOFI (collective real estate investment vehicles) and joined La Française REM in March 2017.

Jean-Christophe has a Master's Degree from ESSEC (Finance, Real Estate and Urban Management) and studied architecture in Paris and Rome (DPLG). He is a member of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (MRICS) and he also spent six years teaching the Master 2 – Real Estate Financing and Investment Law programme at the Université de Cergy-Pontoise Law Faculty.
